

Gender Equality Legal Clinic

Exam instructions:

The assessment of students' progress will be tracked on a continual basis, throughout the entire course. During each session, students will be required to prepare individual and/or group assignments in line with the given topic, whereas professors in charge of the course will provide comments and feedback on each assignment.

The final grade will be determined based on student's participation during classes, as well as the written and oral assignments that they will be asked to prepare during and/or after each session.
